

(Un)Opportunity

Co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Union

GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

As Indigenous land rights activists you face violence and even murder when you seek to defend your lands.

Go two steps back.

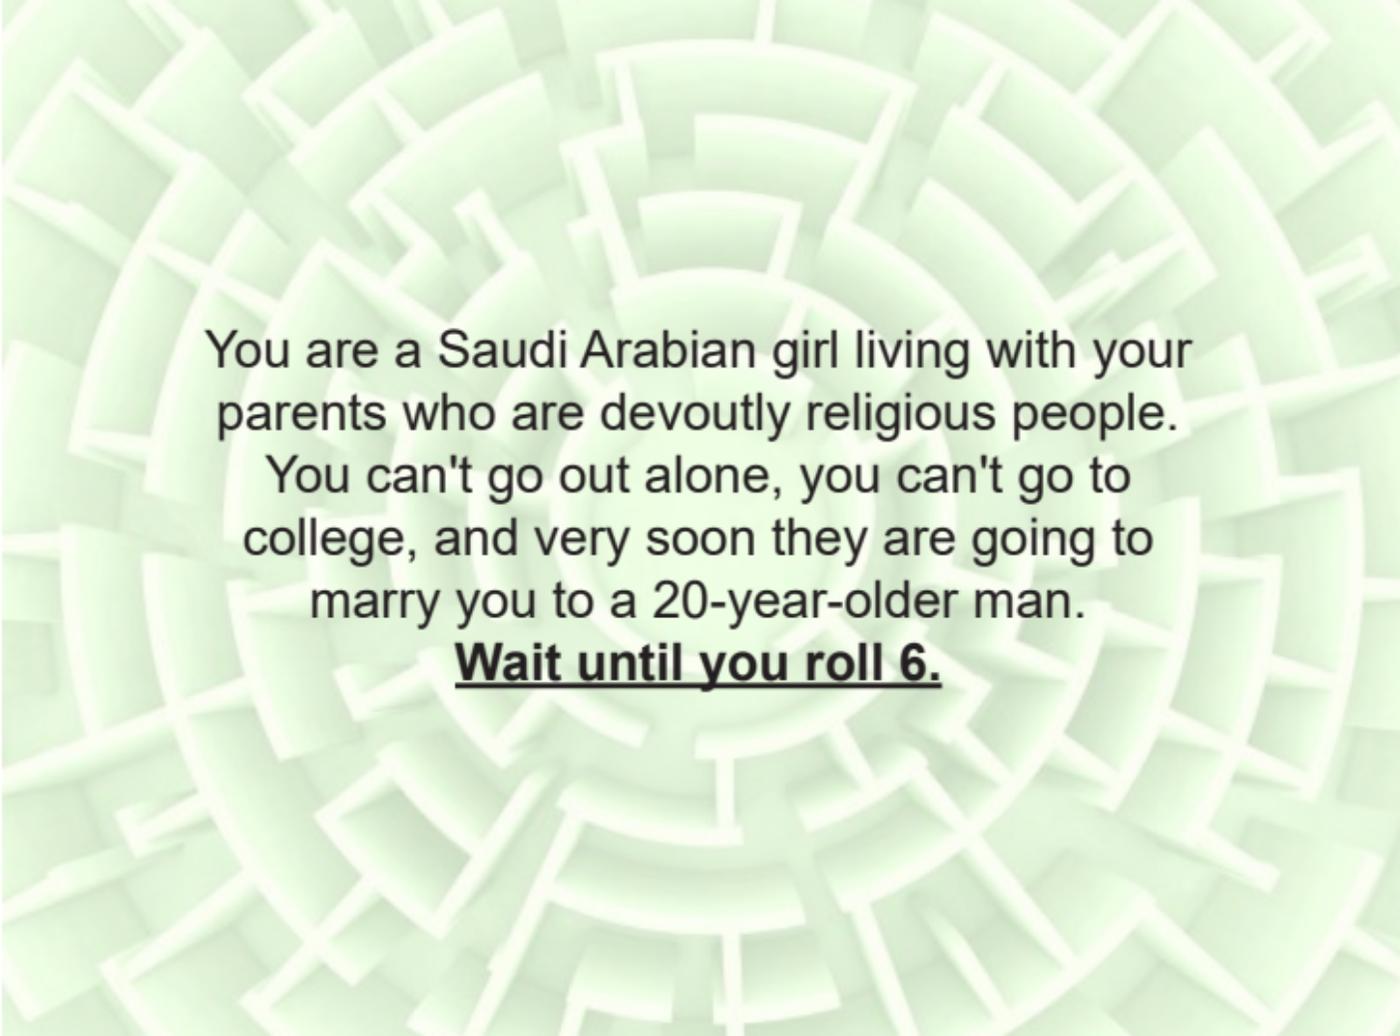

You, as adult women, decide to practice the religion of your choice and marry the person with whom you wish to share your life.

Go two steps forward.

You are the 19-year-old daughter of a farmer in a small village. You completed primary school, but your family didn't have the money to send you to secondary school.

Go two steps forward.

You are a Saudi Arabian girl living with your parents who are devoutly religious people.

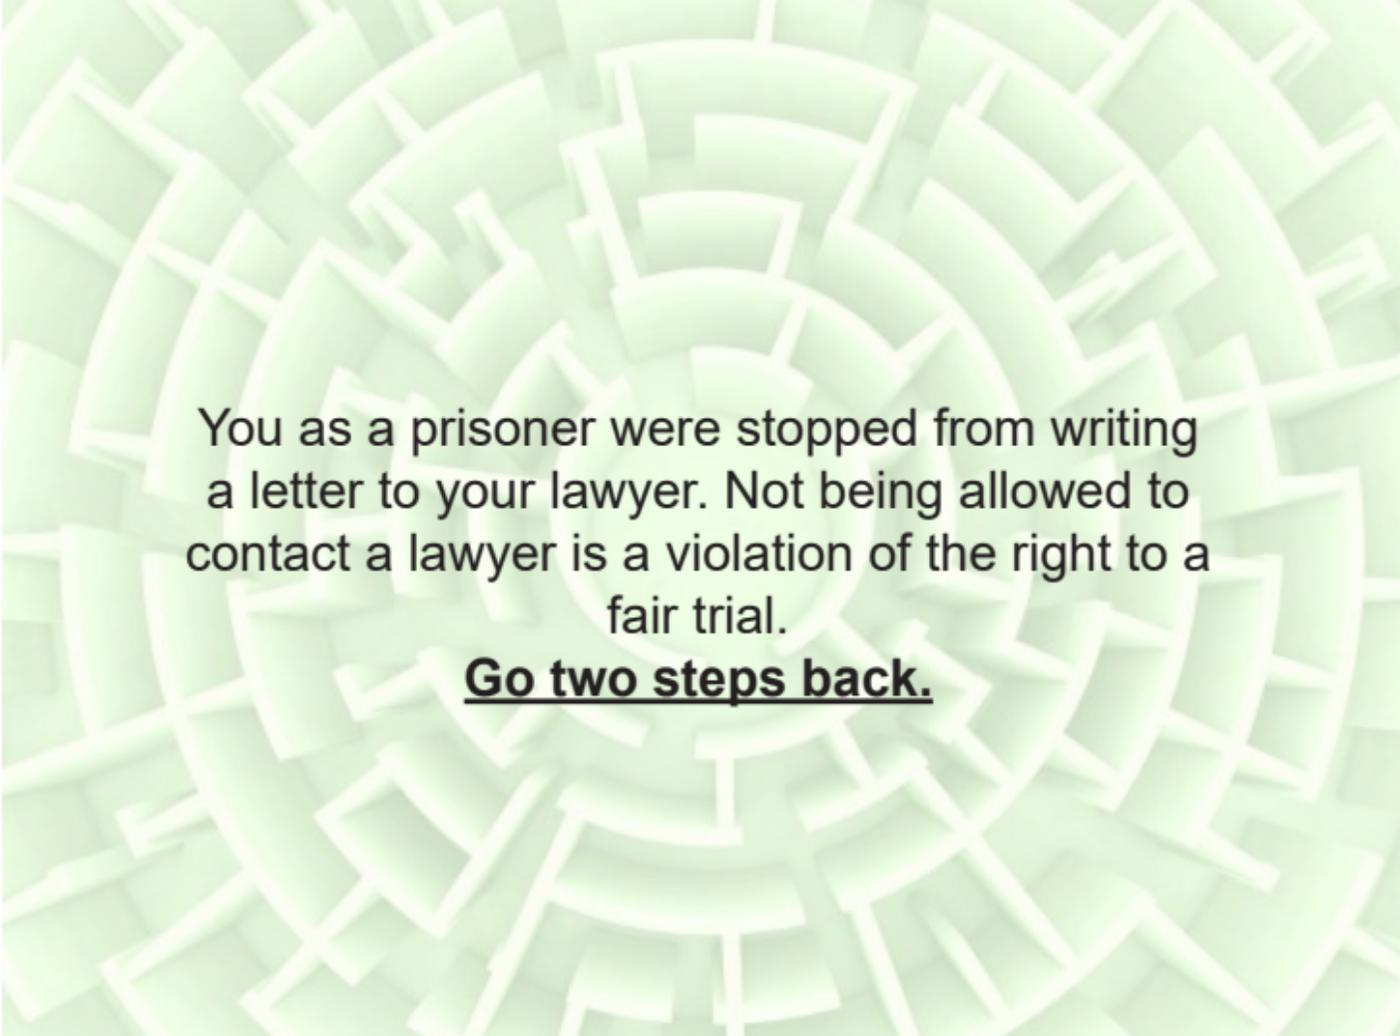

You can't go out alone, you can't go to college, and very soon they are going to marry you to a 20-year-older man.

Wait until you roll 6.

You had been interrogated by the local police on your sexual activities - you are gay and law in your country punished homosexuality.

You won your case.

Take two steps forward, roll the dice again and go forward according to the score at dice.

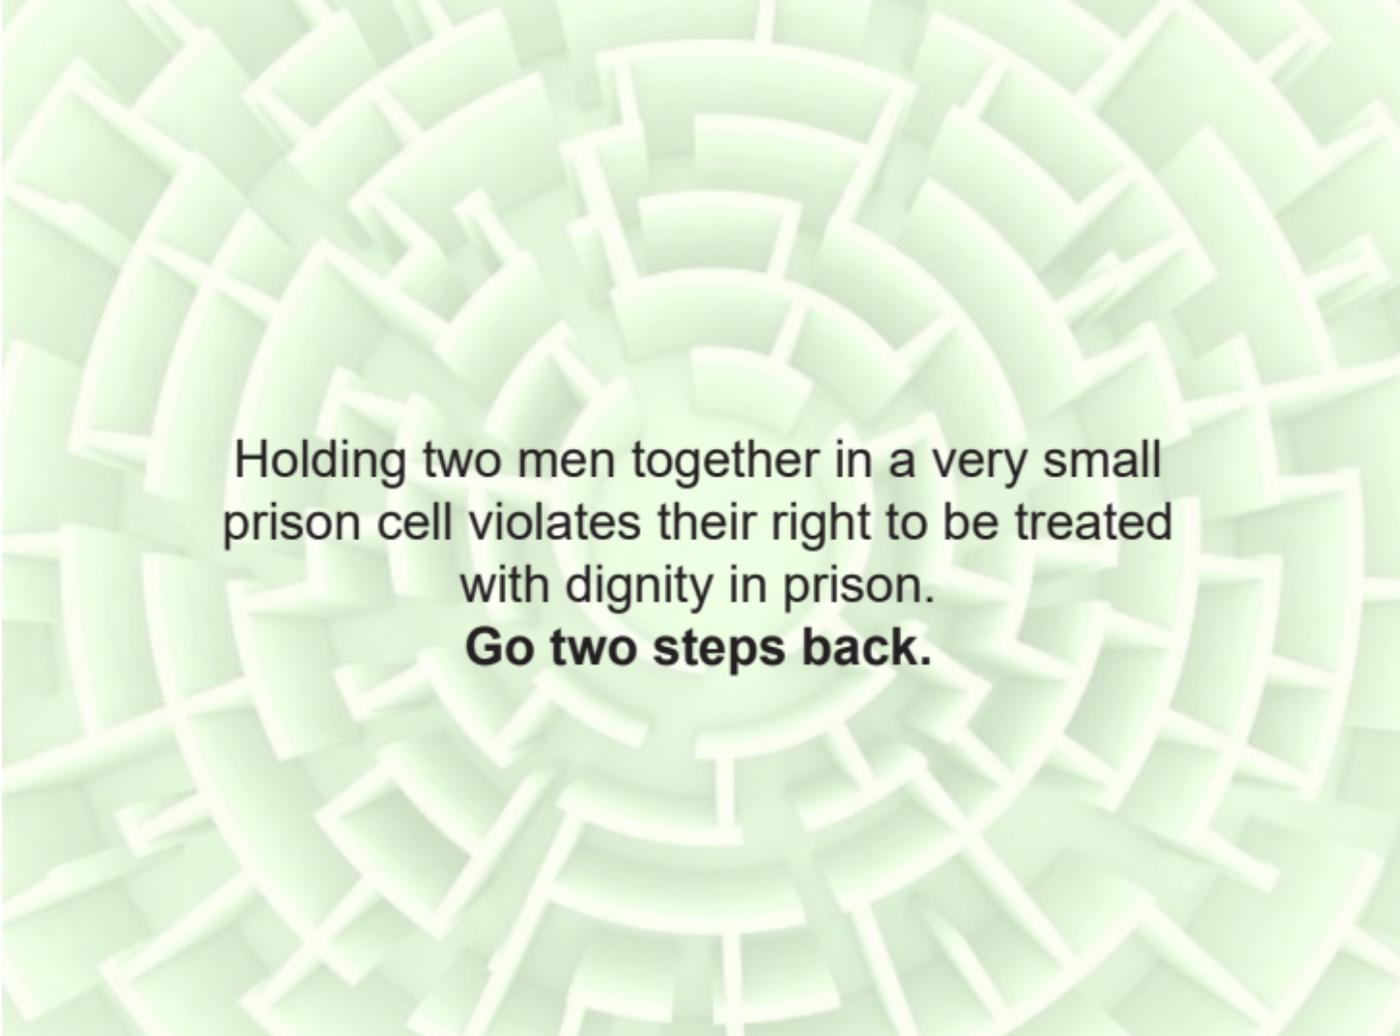

You as a prisoner were stopped from writing a letter to your lawyer. Not being allowed to contact a lawyer is a violation of the right to a fair trial.

Go two steps back.

In many countries women remain underrepresented in government and corporate leadership positions, earn lower wages, and are less likely than their male counterparts to obtain a primary education.

Go two steps back.

Holding two men together in a very small prison cell violates their right to be treated with dignity in prison.
Go two steps back.

When a Ugandan tabloid published the names and photos of (alleged) gay and lesbian people, that persons took the newspaper to court and won the case.

Take two steps forward, roll the dice again and go forward according to the score at dice.

In most countries, women remain significantly less likely than men to be appointed to a leadership position.

Go one step back.

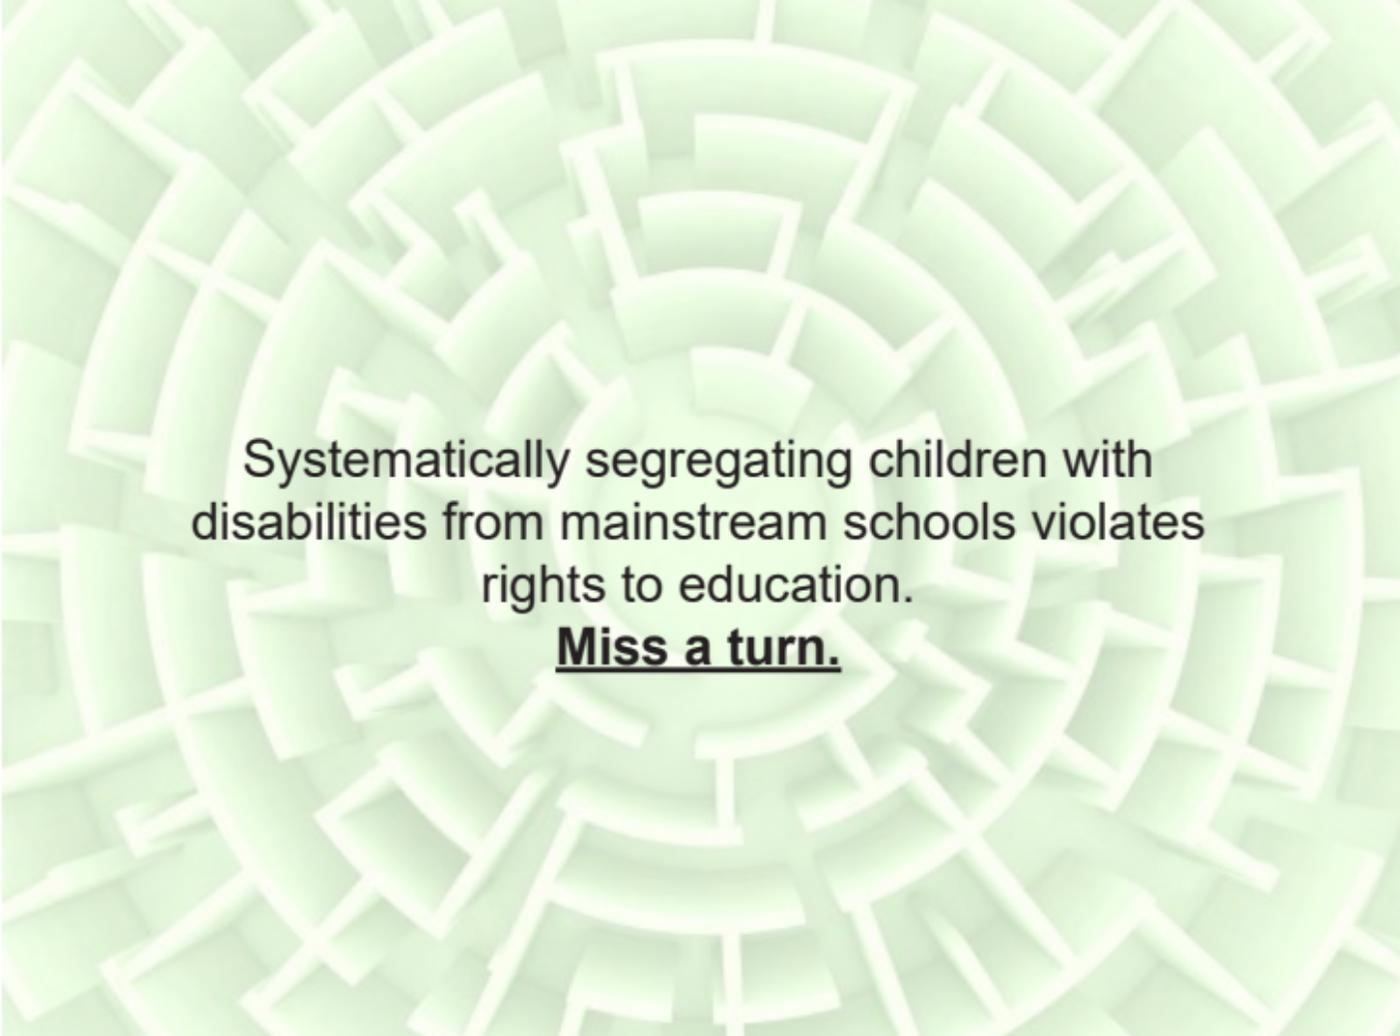

Many of the girls interviewed in Pakistan are desperate to study, but growing up without the education they have no options for their future.”

Miss a turn.

In some countries gay men were stopped from inheriting a council flat from his dead male partner. Only a husband or wife could inherit.

Wait until you roll 6.

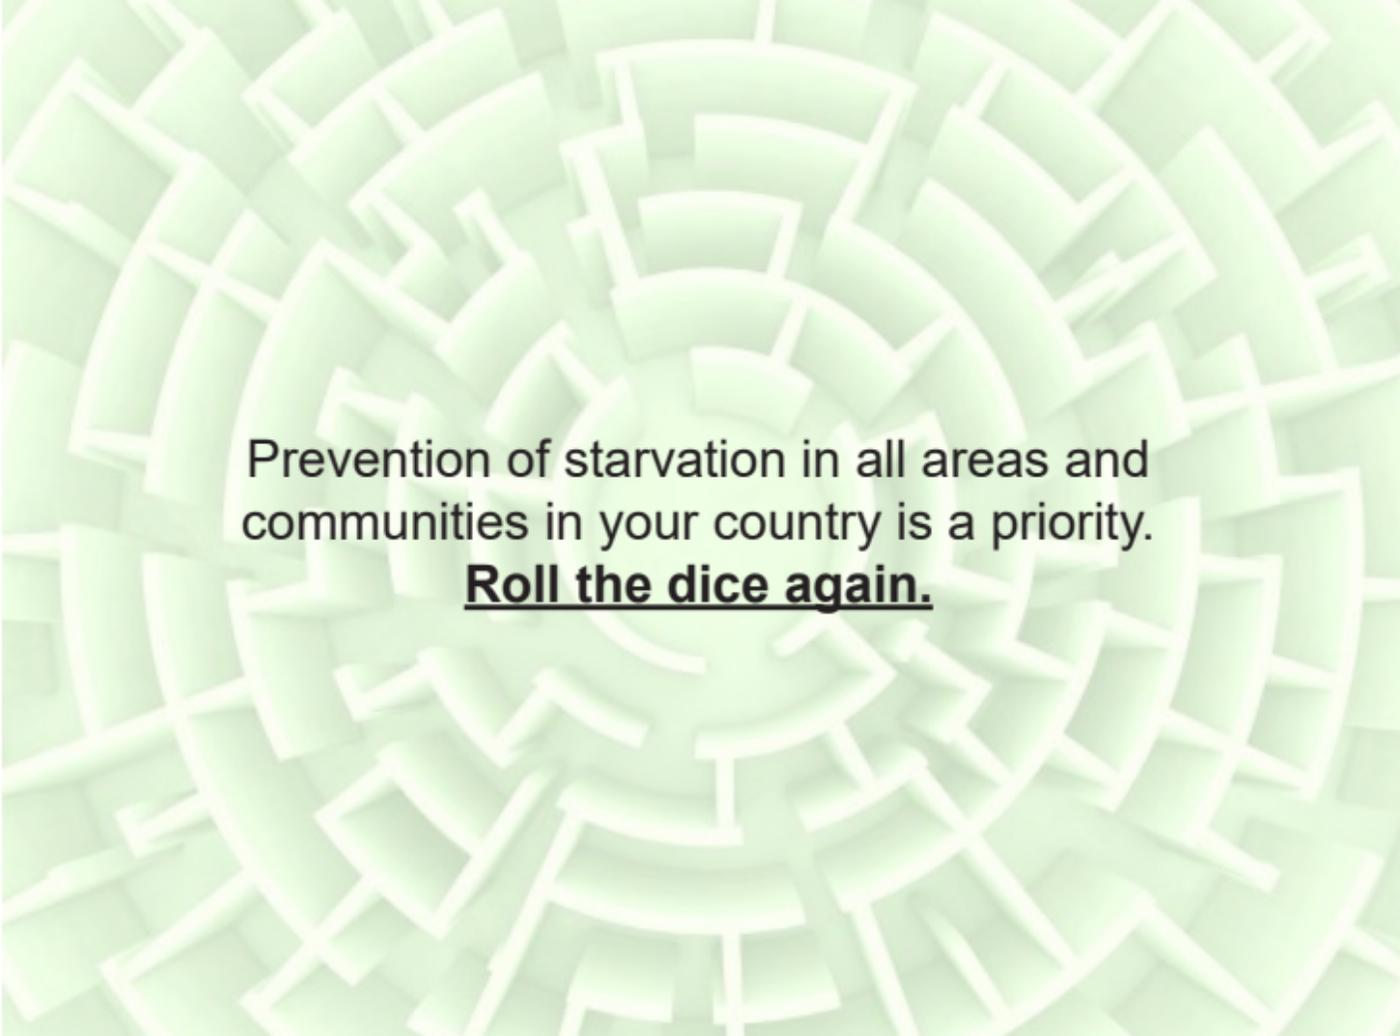

Systematically segregating children with disabilities from mainstream schools violates rights to education.

Miss a turn.

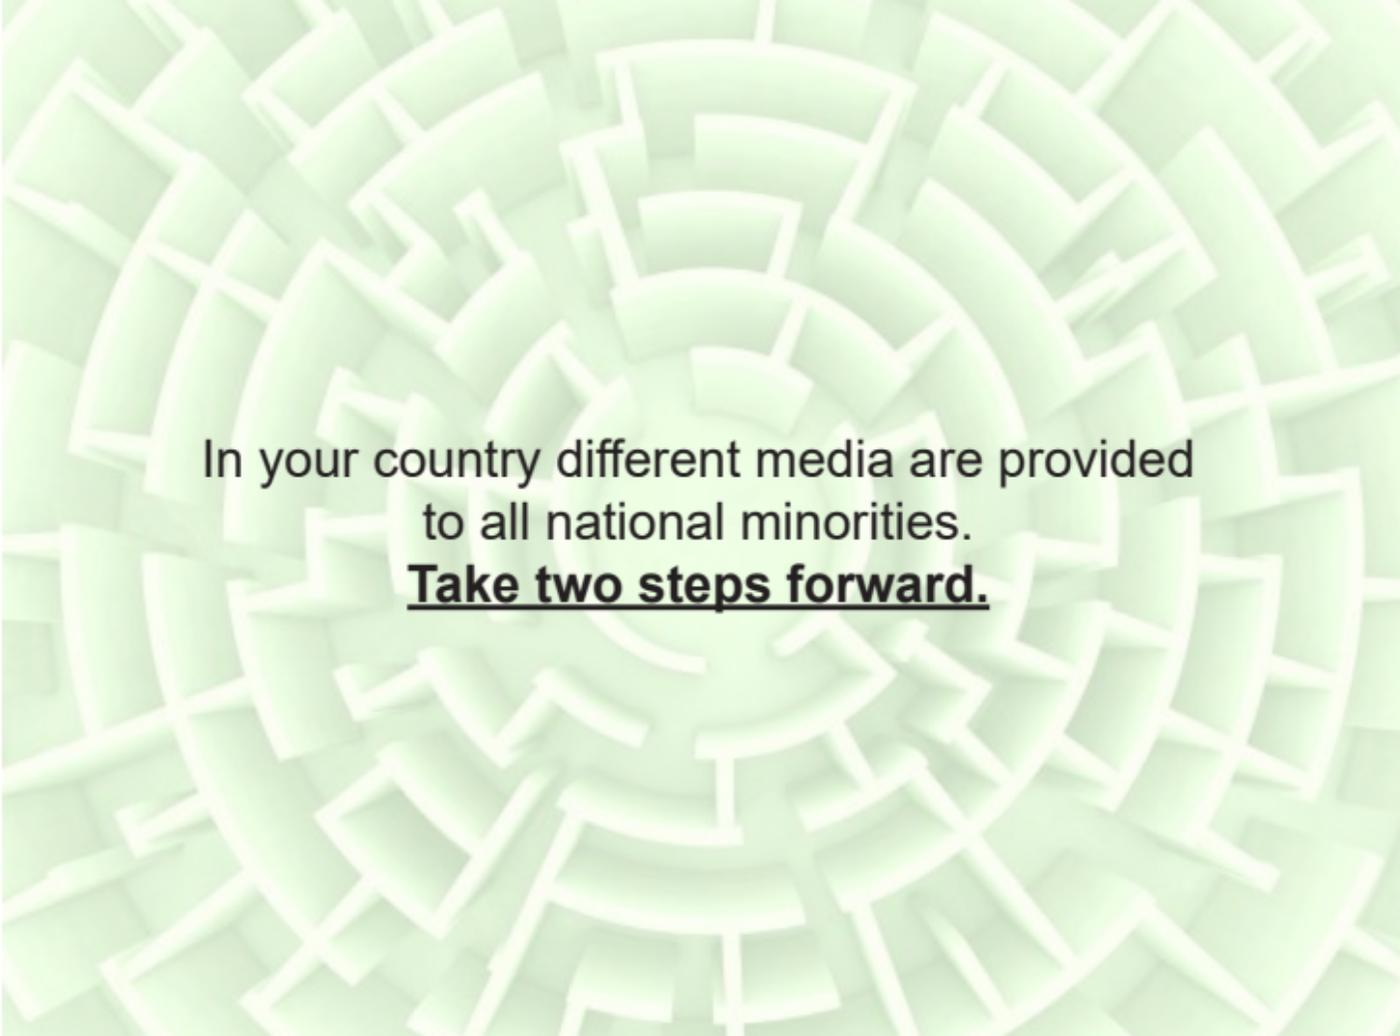

In your country is banning the use of minority or indigenous languages.

Go one step back.

Prevention of starvation in all areas and communities in your country is a priority.

Roll the dice again.

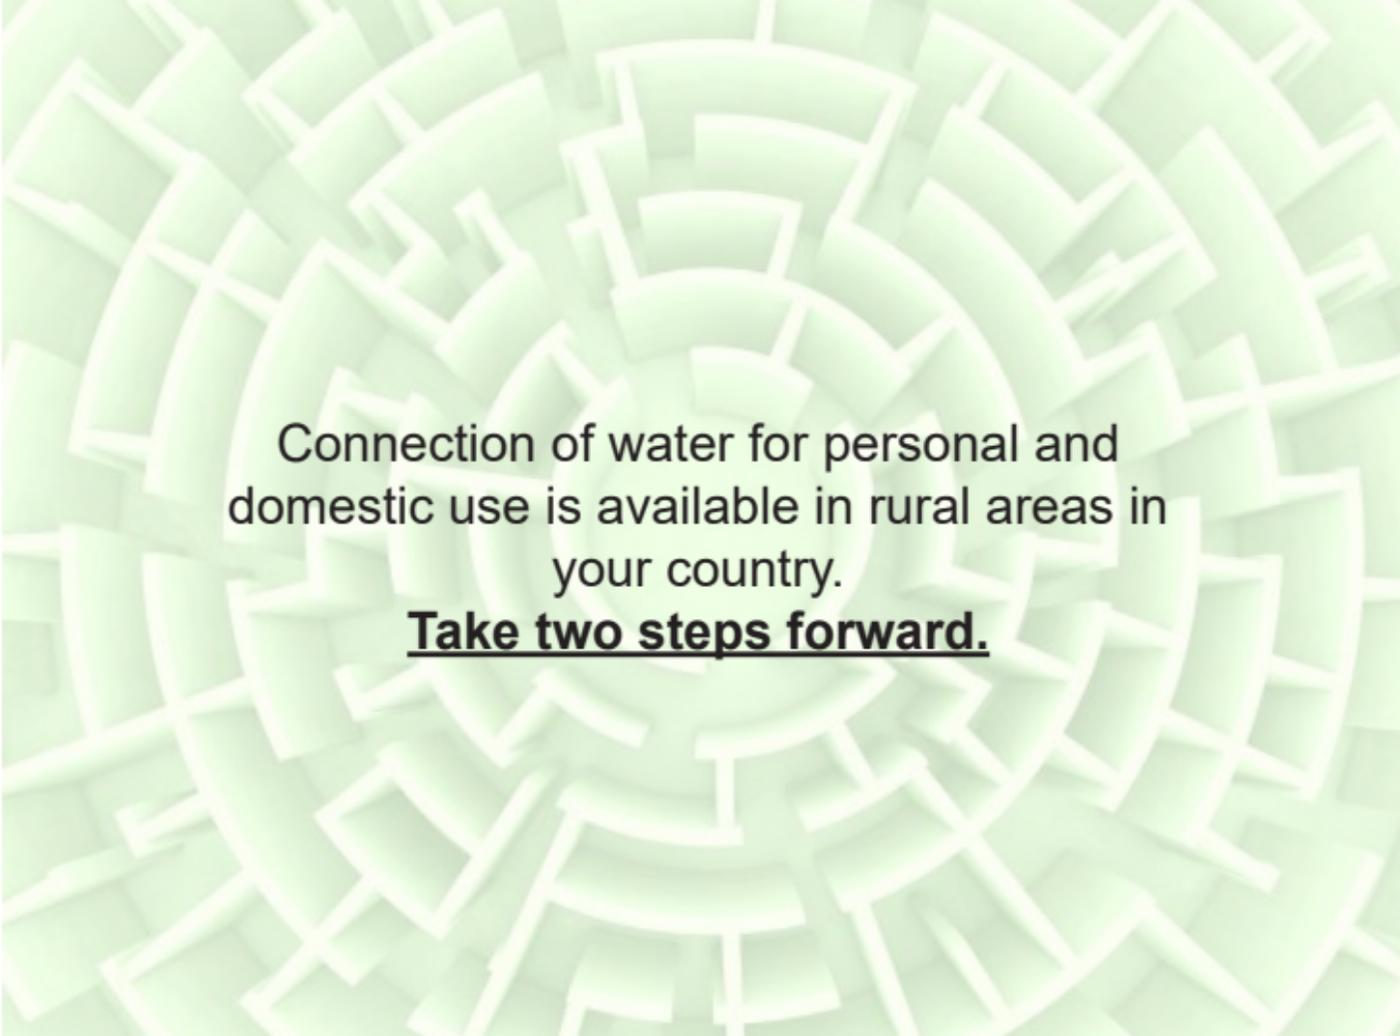

A 3D maze background with a light green color scheme. The maze is composed of white walls and paths, creating a complex, circular pattern that recedes into the distance. The overall aesthetic is clean and modern.

In your country different media are provided to all national minorities.

Take two steps forward.

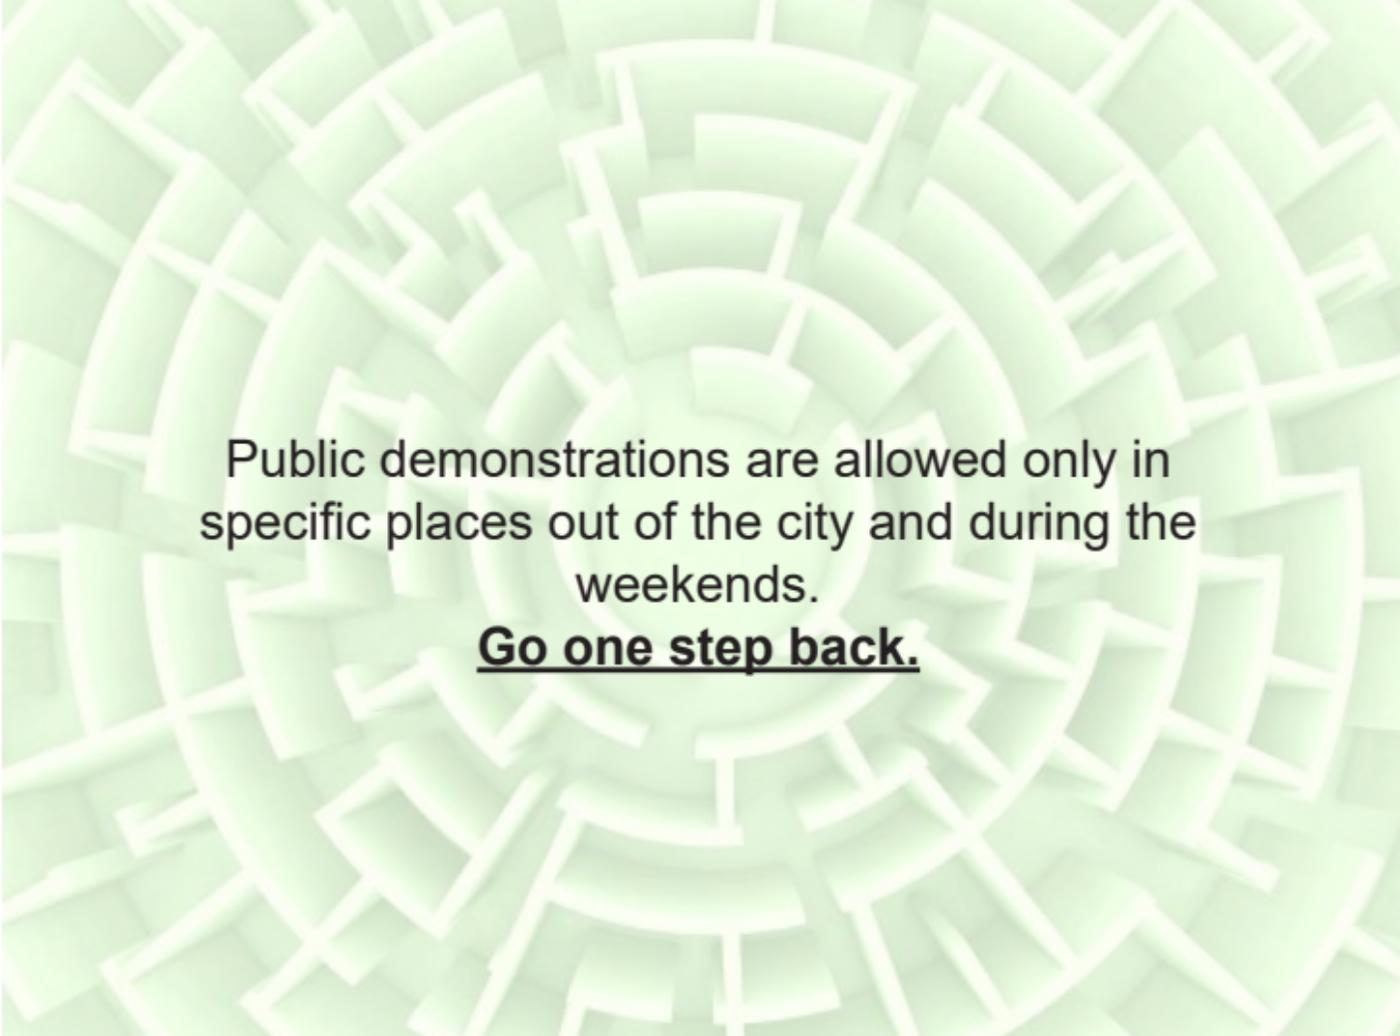

You are paid with dignity for your work.
Take two steps forward.

Connection of water for personal and domestic use is available in rural areas in your country.

Take two steps forward.

Public demonstrations are allowed only in specific places out of the city and during the weekends.

Go one step back.

Artists in your country are not allowed to criticise religion in their works.

Go one step back.

Weekly magazines are under attack every time they criticise church or government.

Go one step back.

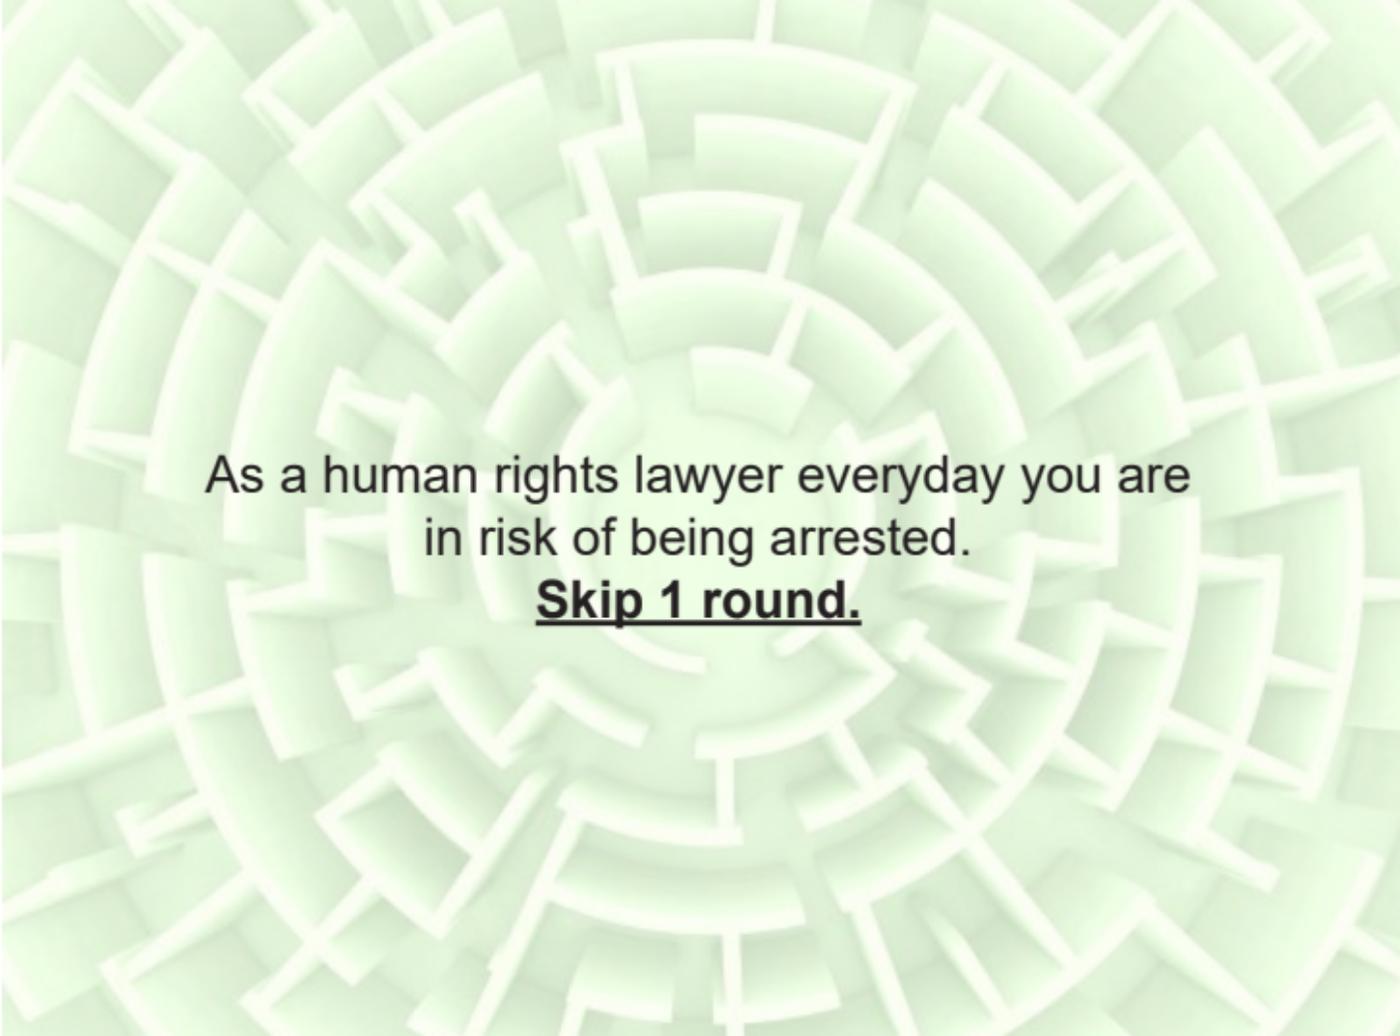

Opposition journalist releases an arrest warrant in town square after revealing corruption cases in your town.

Roll a Dice and go back according to the score at dice.

War happens in your country, you lose everything.

Wait until you role 6.

A 3D maze background with a light green color scheme. The maze is composed of white walls and paths, creating a complex, circular pattern that recedes into the distance. The lighting is soft, giving the maze a three-dimensional appearance.

As a human rights lawyer everyday you are in risk of being arrested.

Skip 1 round.

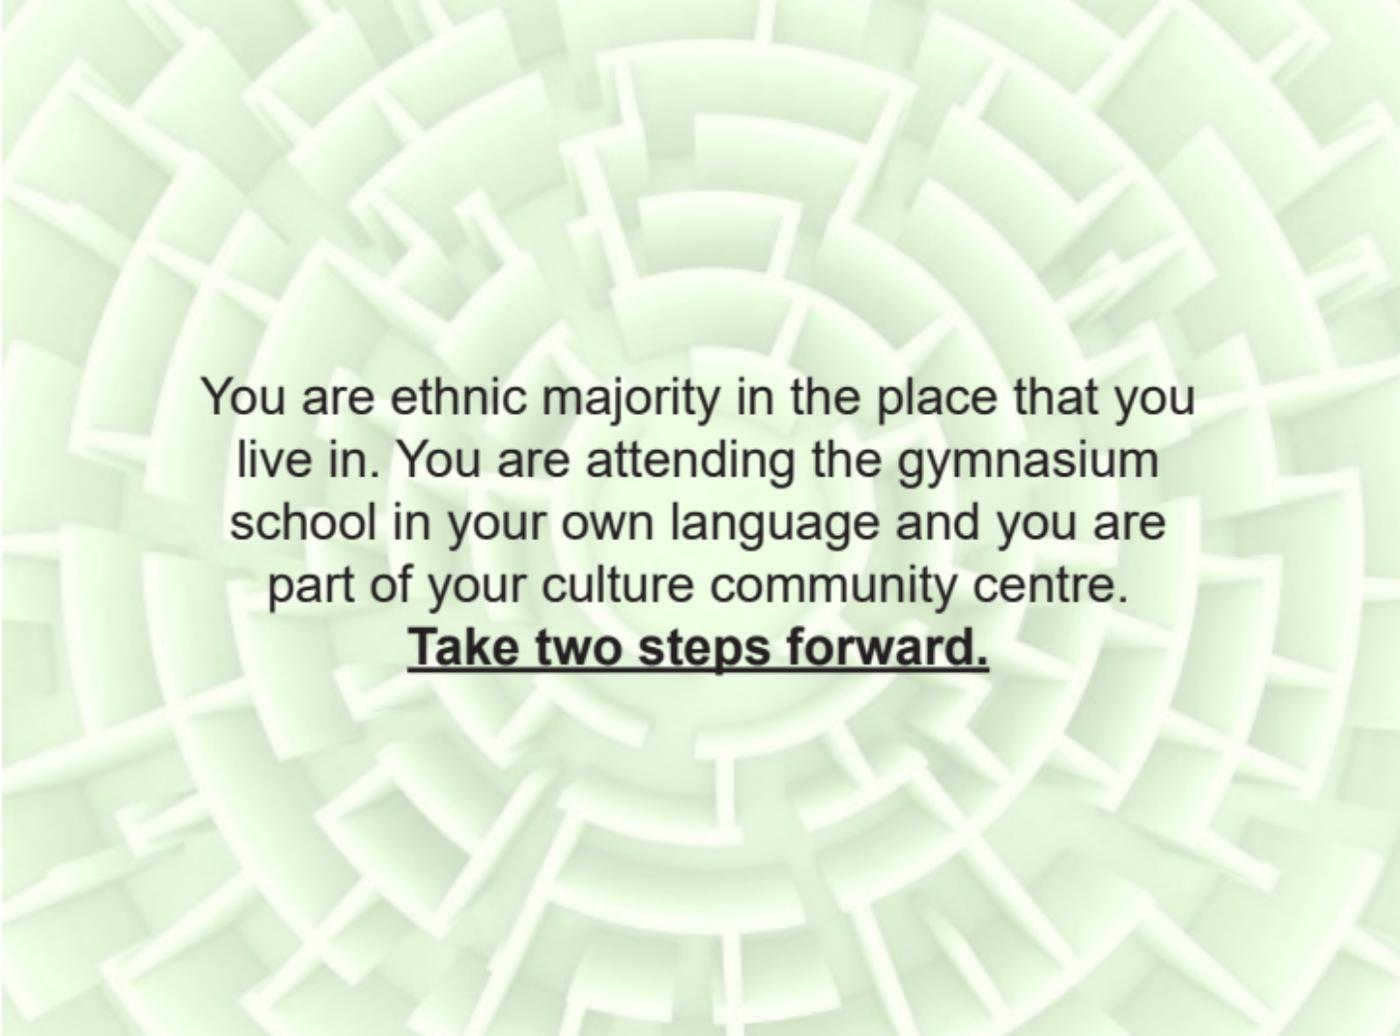

You are the daughter of the bank director in your city. You study modern arts at university.

Take two steps forward.

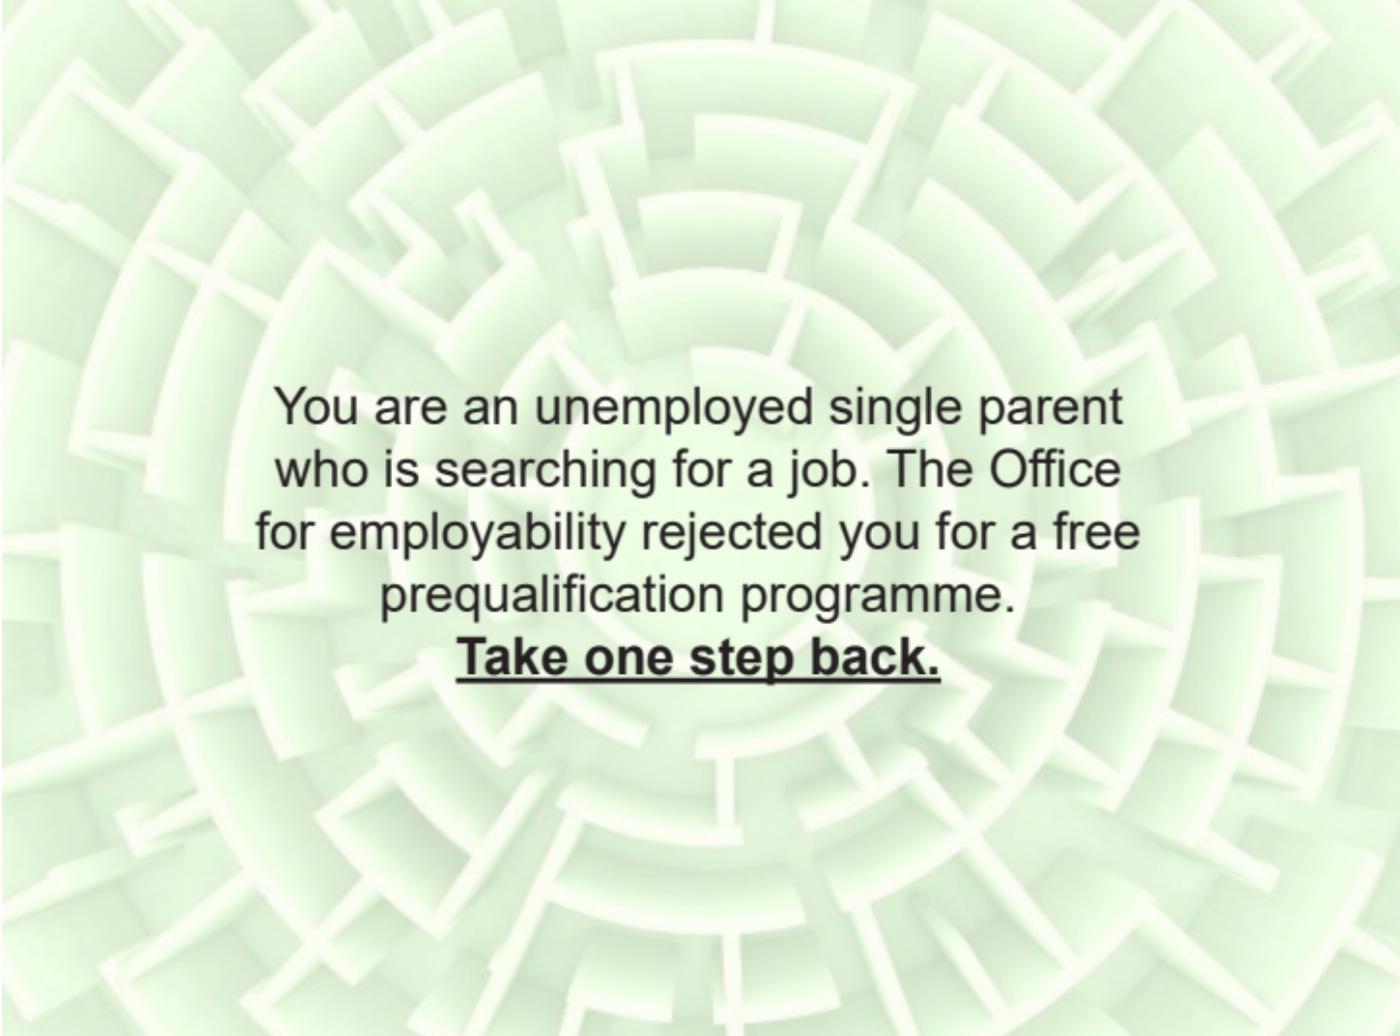

A 3D maze background with a central opening. The maze is composed of white, raised walls on a light green surface, creating a complex, circular path that leads to a central circular void. The perspective is from above, looking down into the maze.

You study economics and marketing at an international university.
Take two steps forward.

You are ethnic majority in the place that you live in. You are attending the gymnasium school in your own language and you are part of your culture community centre.

Take two steps forward.

The background of the slide is a light green color with a white maze pattern. The maze consists of many interconnected paths and dead ends, creating a complex, circular design that fills the entire frame.

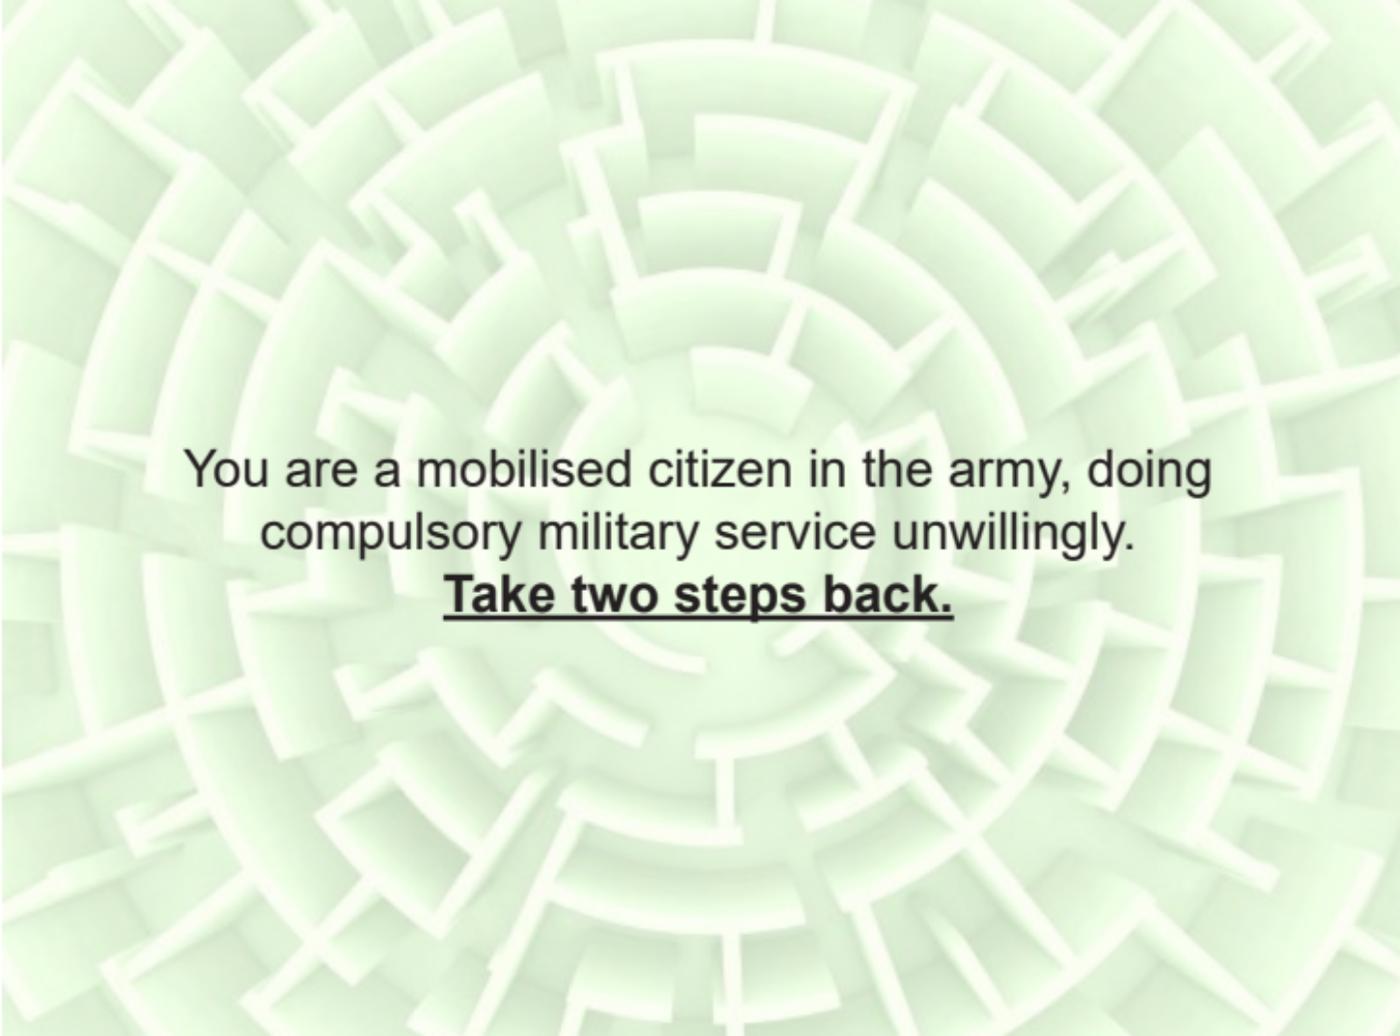

You are an unemployed single parent who is searching for a job. The Office for employability rejected you for a free prequalification programme.

Take one step back.

In the parliament in your country women have an important role.

Take step forward.

You are a mobilised citizen in the army, doing compulsory military service unwillingly.

Take two steps back.

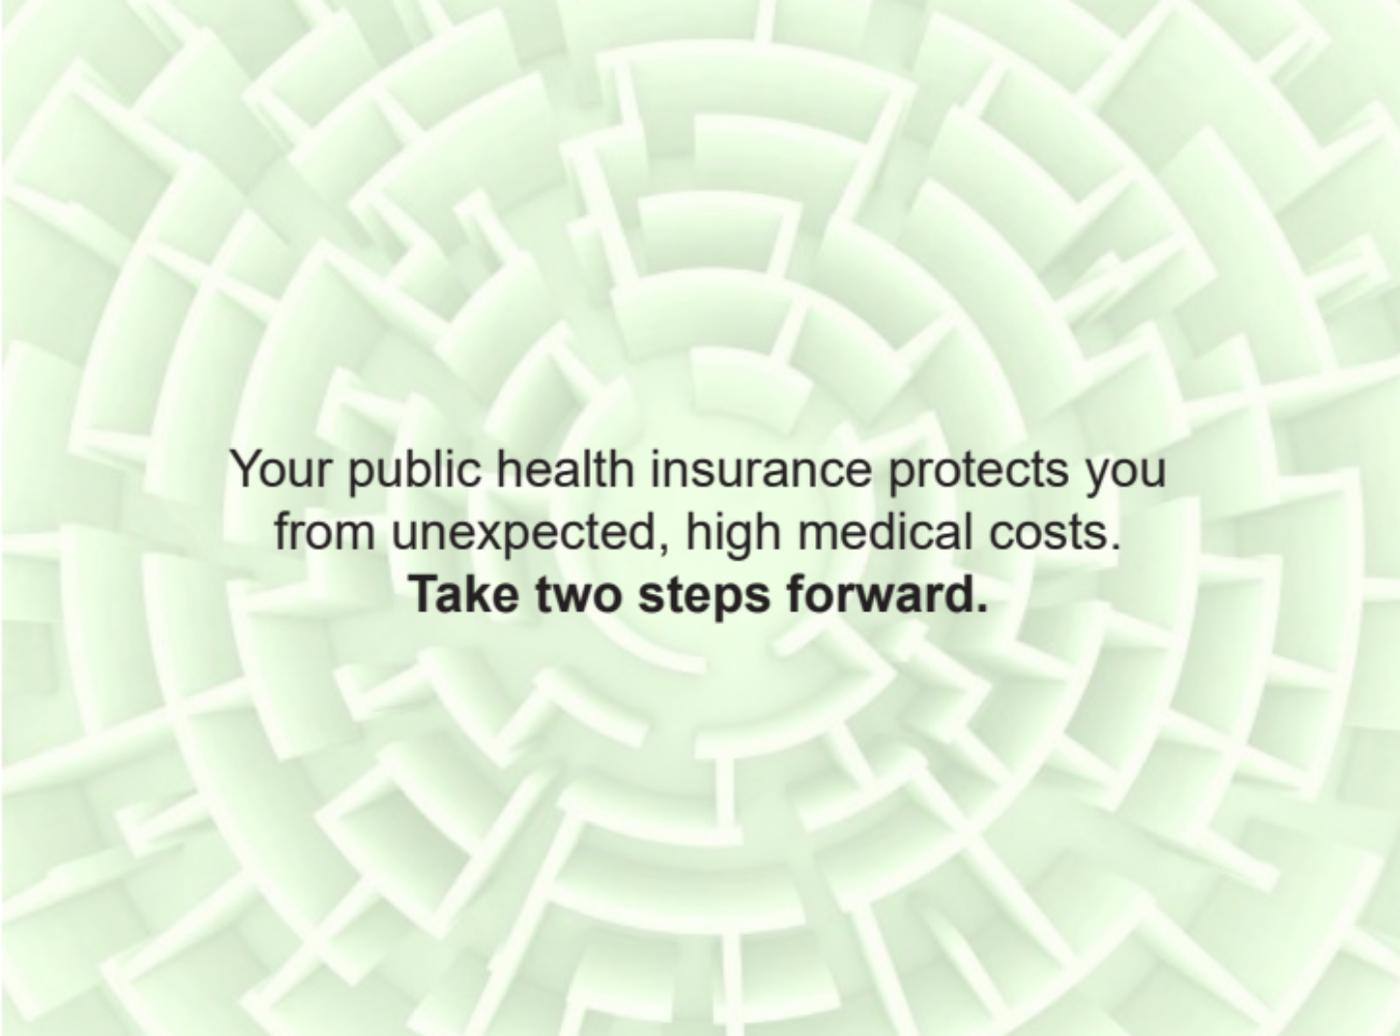

You are living in rural areas where you started your business with producing organic vegetables and fruits by subvention programme.

Take step forward.

Government in your country fully supports freedom of the media and freedom of speech.

Take two steps forward.

Your public health insurance protects you from unexpected, high medical costs.

Take two steps forward.

Next week you are going to vote in the presidential elections.

Take one step forward.

A green maze background with a central circular opening. The maze is composed of white lines forming a complex, circular pattern. The text is centered within the maze.

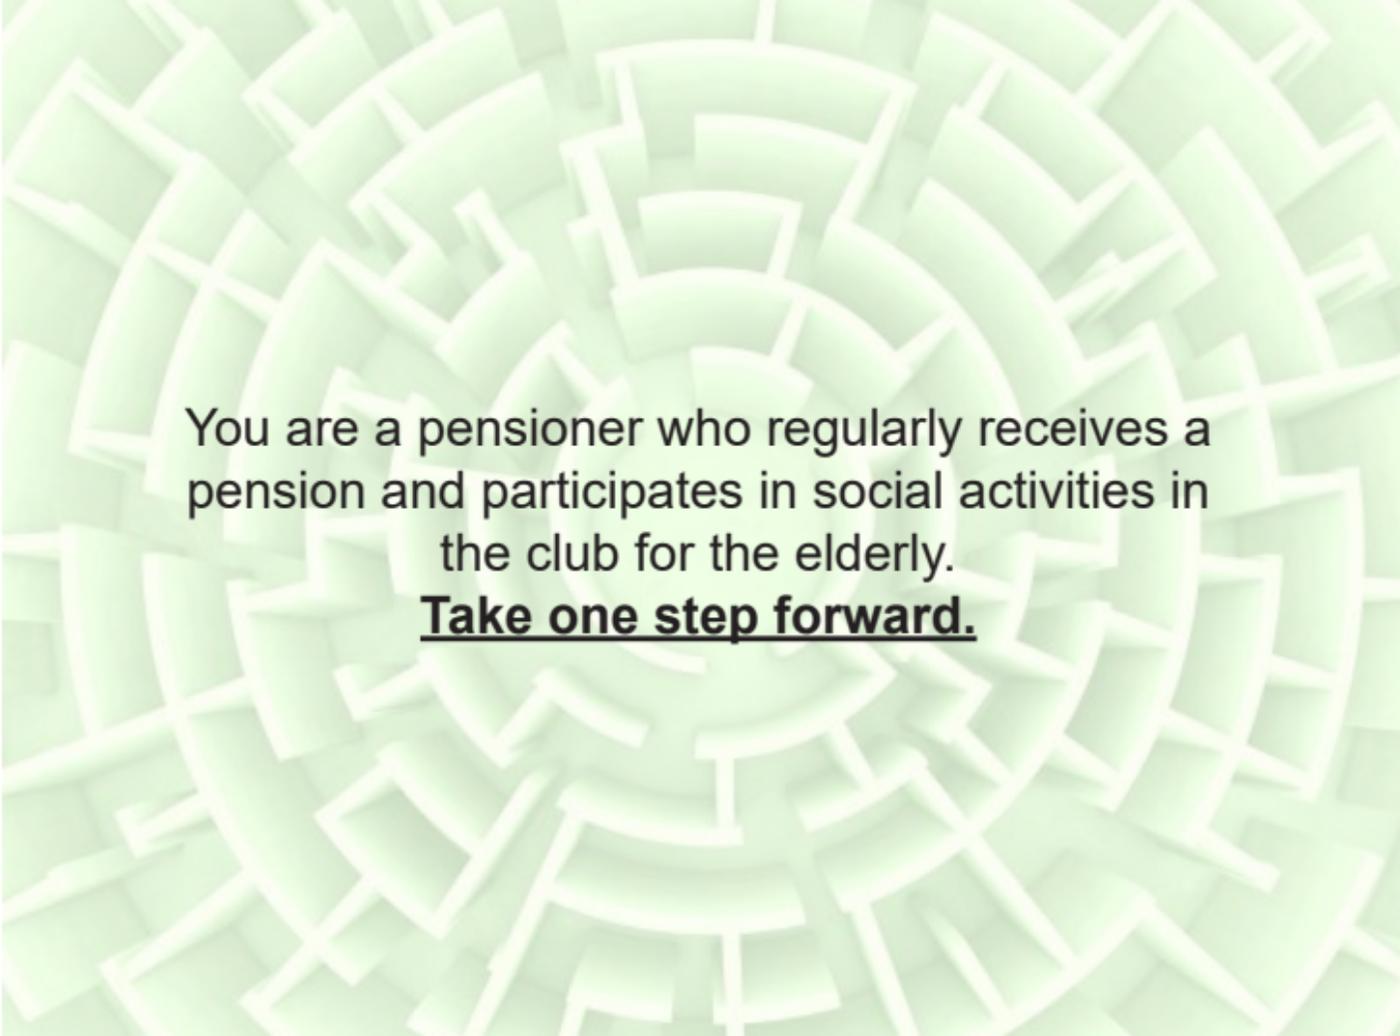

As a president of the student parliament you travelled so much in the last two years.

Take two steps forward.

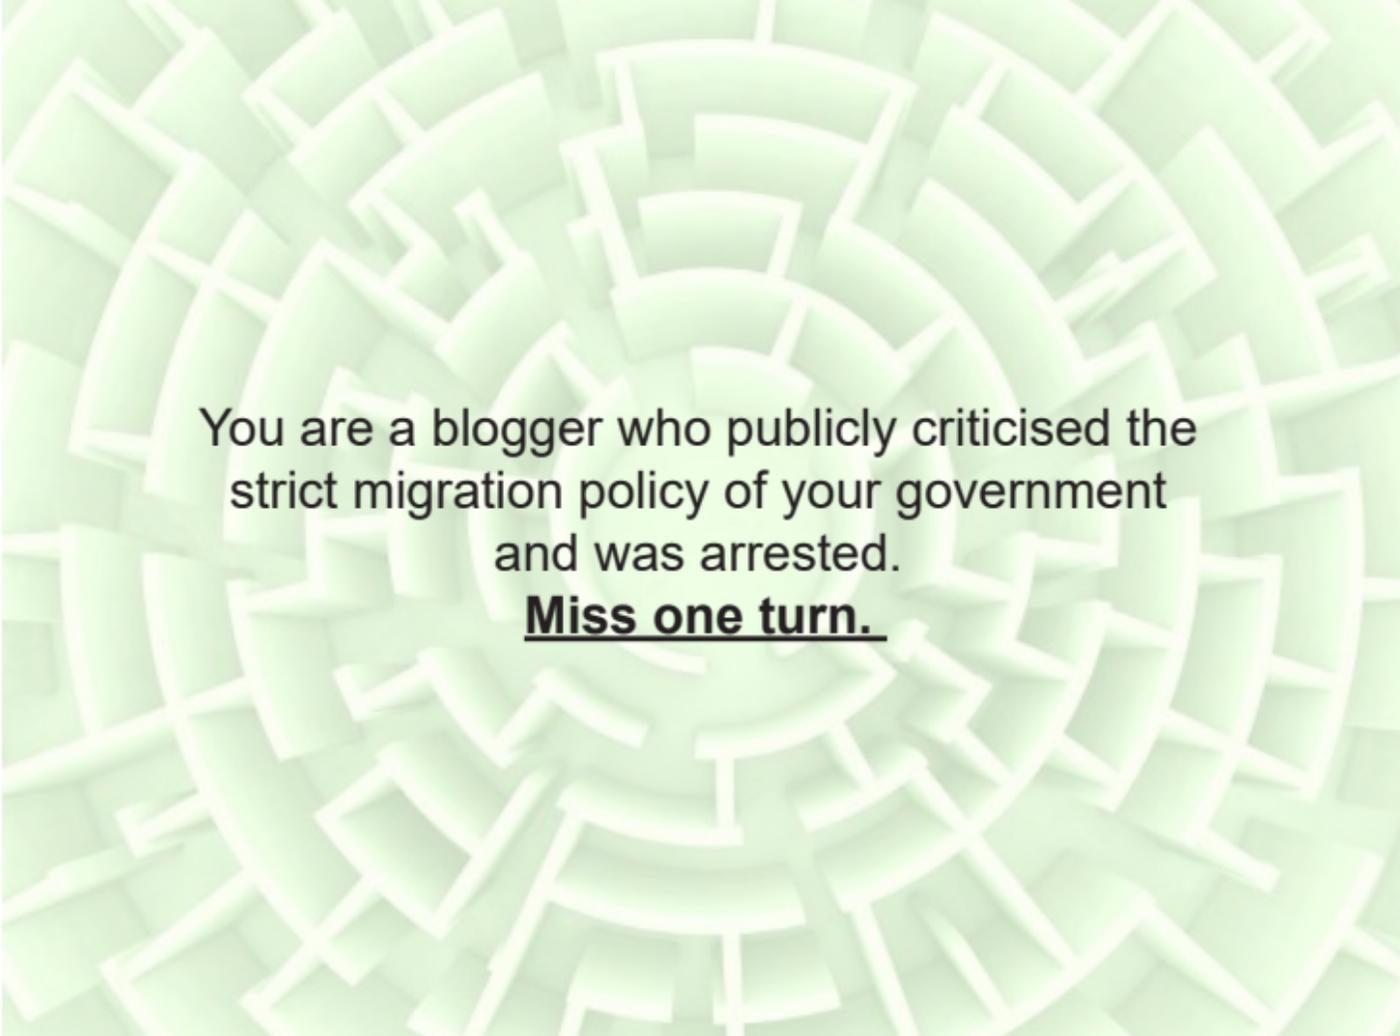

As a political prisoner you have full rights for fair play trial.

Take two steps forward and roll the dice again.

You are a pensioner who regularly receives a pension and participates in social activities in the club for the elderly.

Take one step forward.

You are a blogger who publicly criticised the strict migration policy of your government and was arrested.

Miss one turn.

You are a journalist who discovers corruption cases in your local secretariat and you have been publicly disrespectful on local Media.

Take two steps back.

You received an award for your work.
Everyday you defend the rights of people with disabilities.

Take two steps forward.

You are the president of a party-political youth organisation and member of City Youth Council.

Take two steps forward.

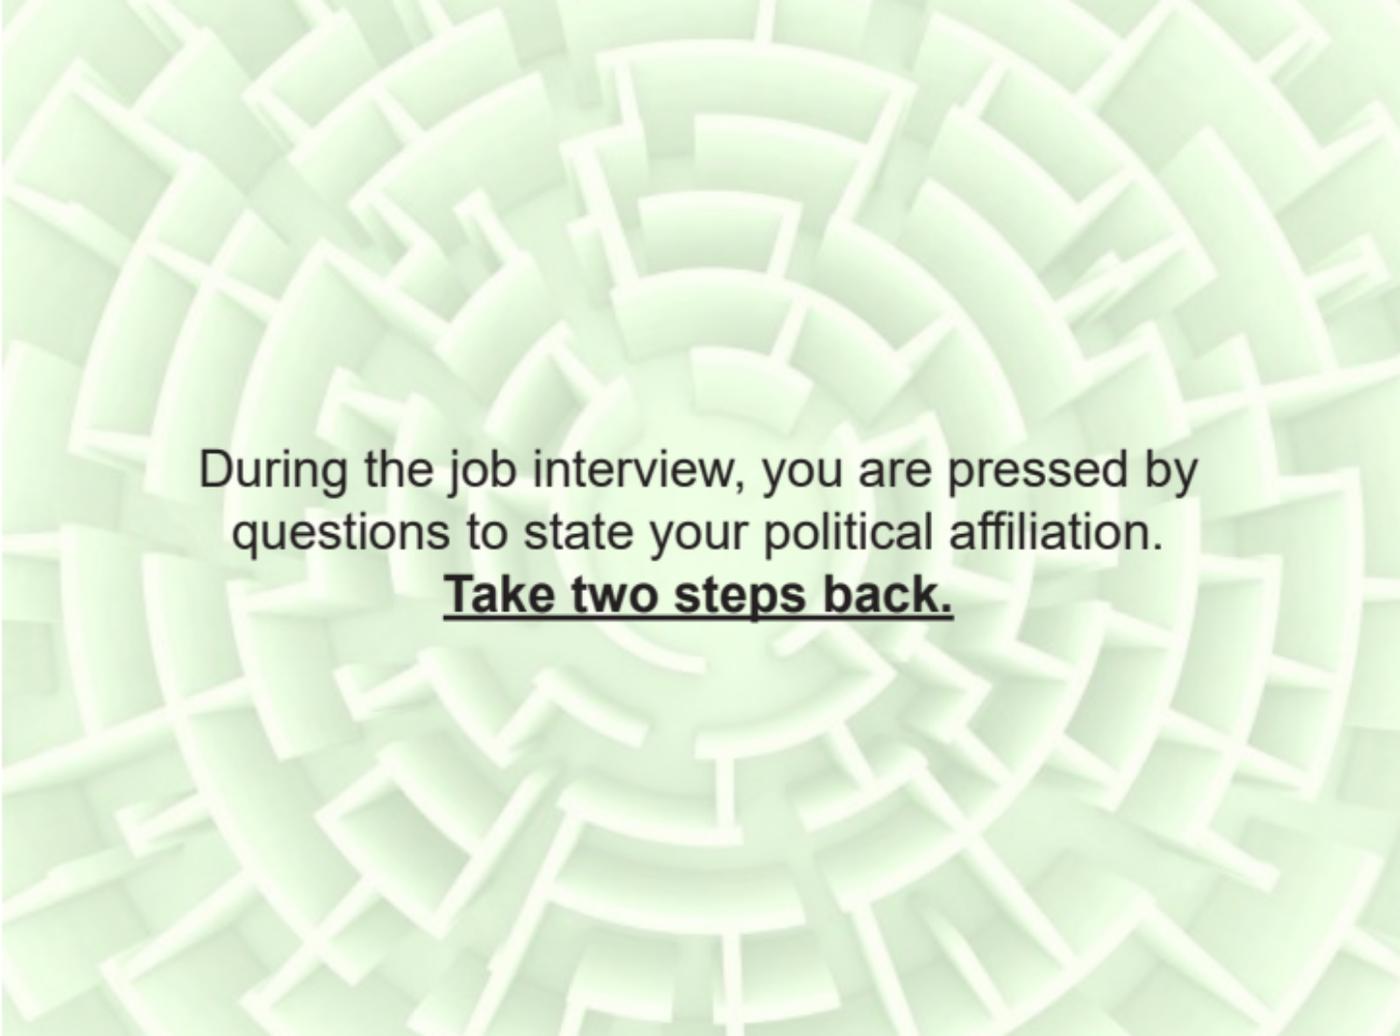

You initiate a petition against the construction of a building on the site of the park as a yearly plan of your government. You have been taken in for questioning
Take two steps back.

A green maze background with a central opening. The maze is composed of white lines forming a complex, circular pattern. The text is centered within the maze.

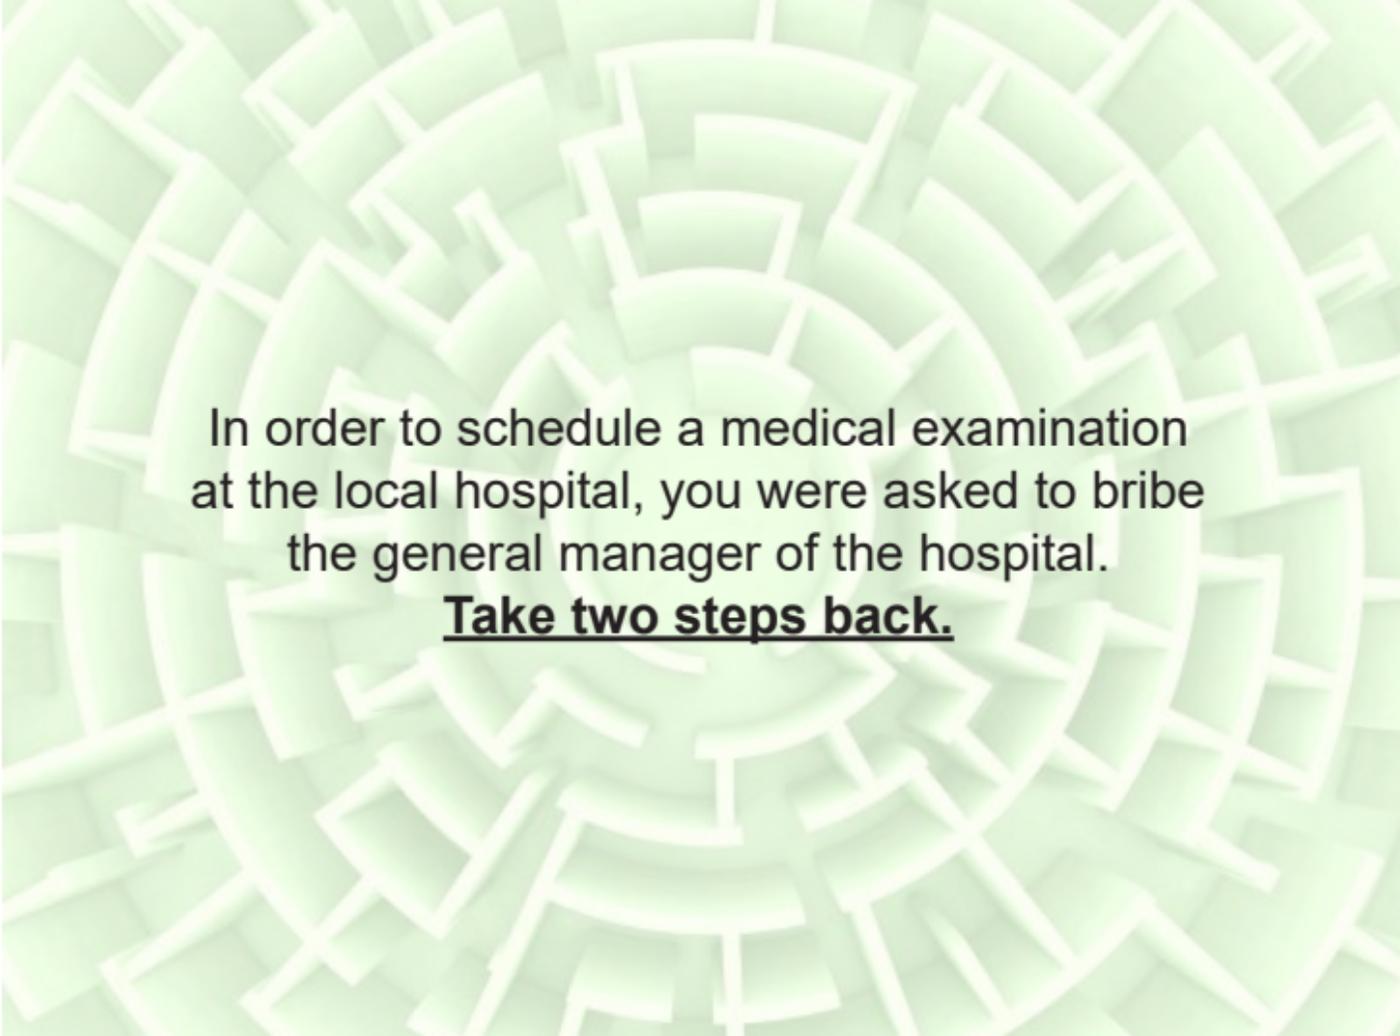

Due to your political views you have been secretly wiretapped.

Take two steps back.

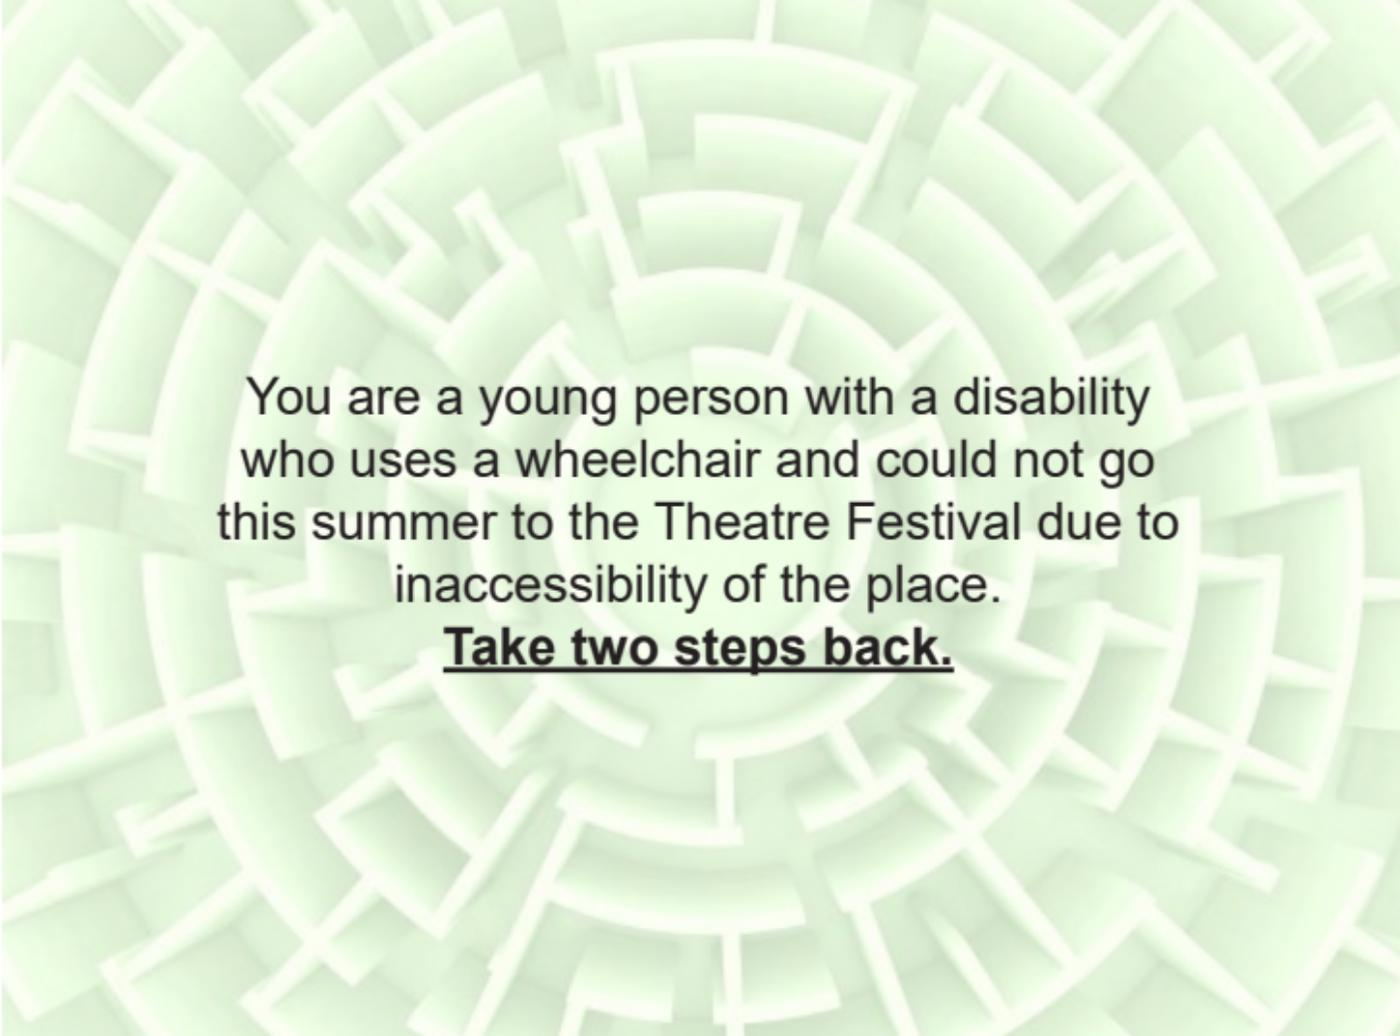

During the job interview, you are pressed by questions to state your political affiliation.

Take two steps back.

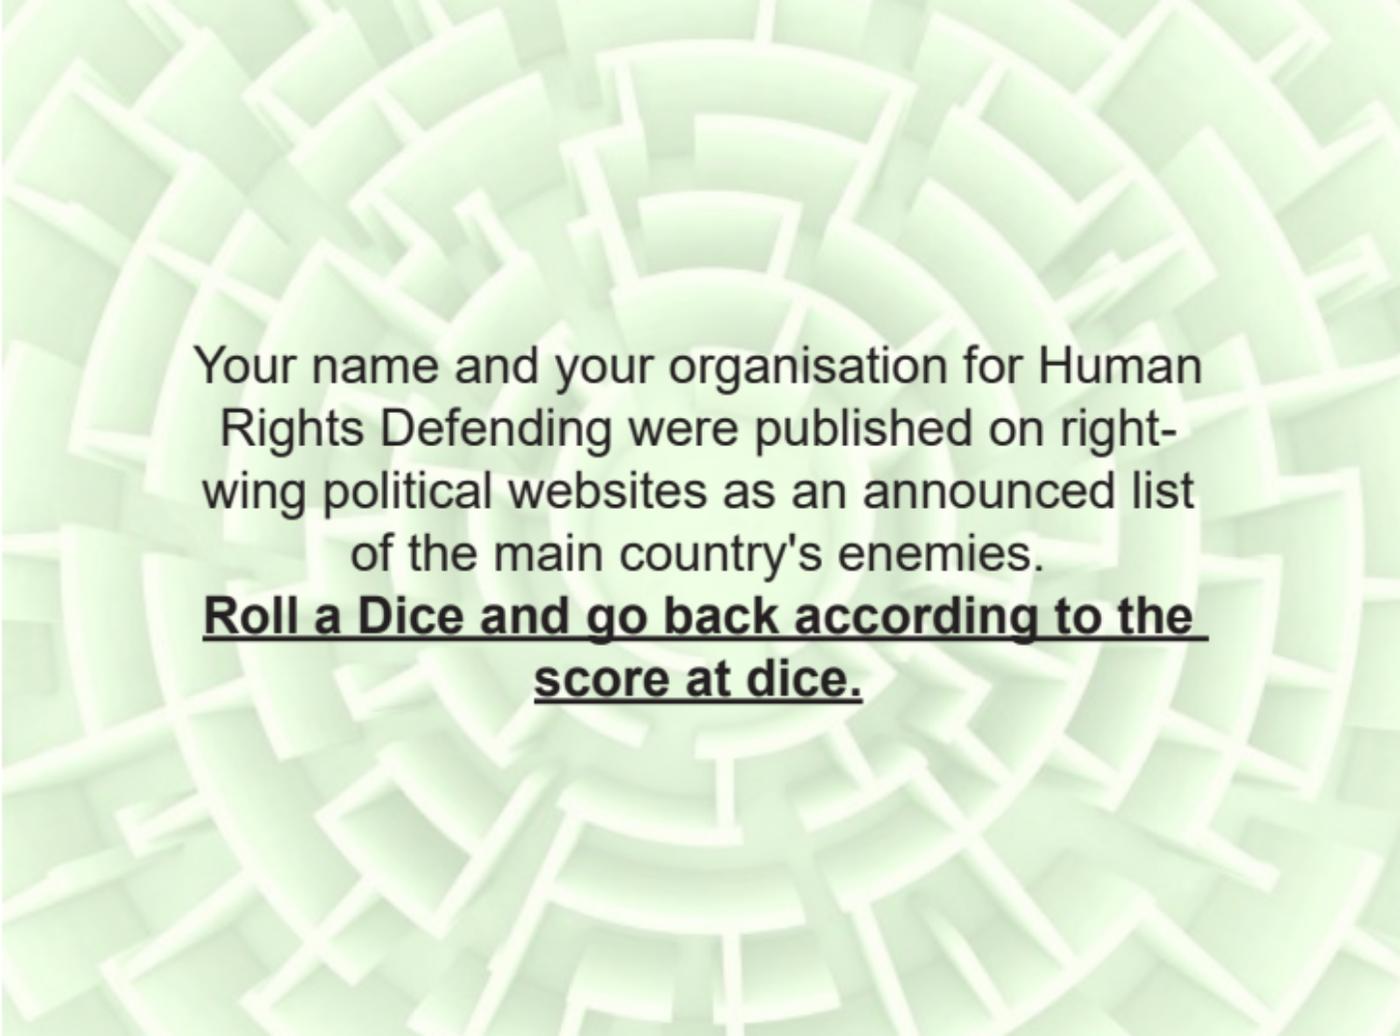

In order to schedule a medical examination at the local hospital, you were asked to bribe the general manager of the hospital.

Take two steps back.

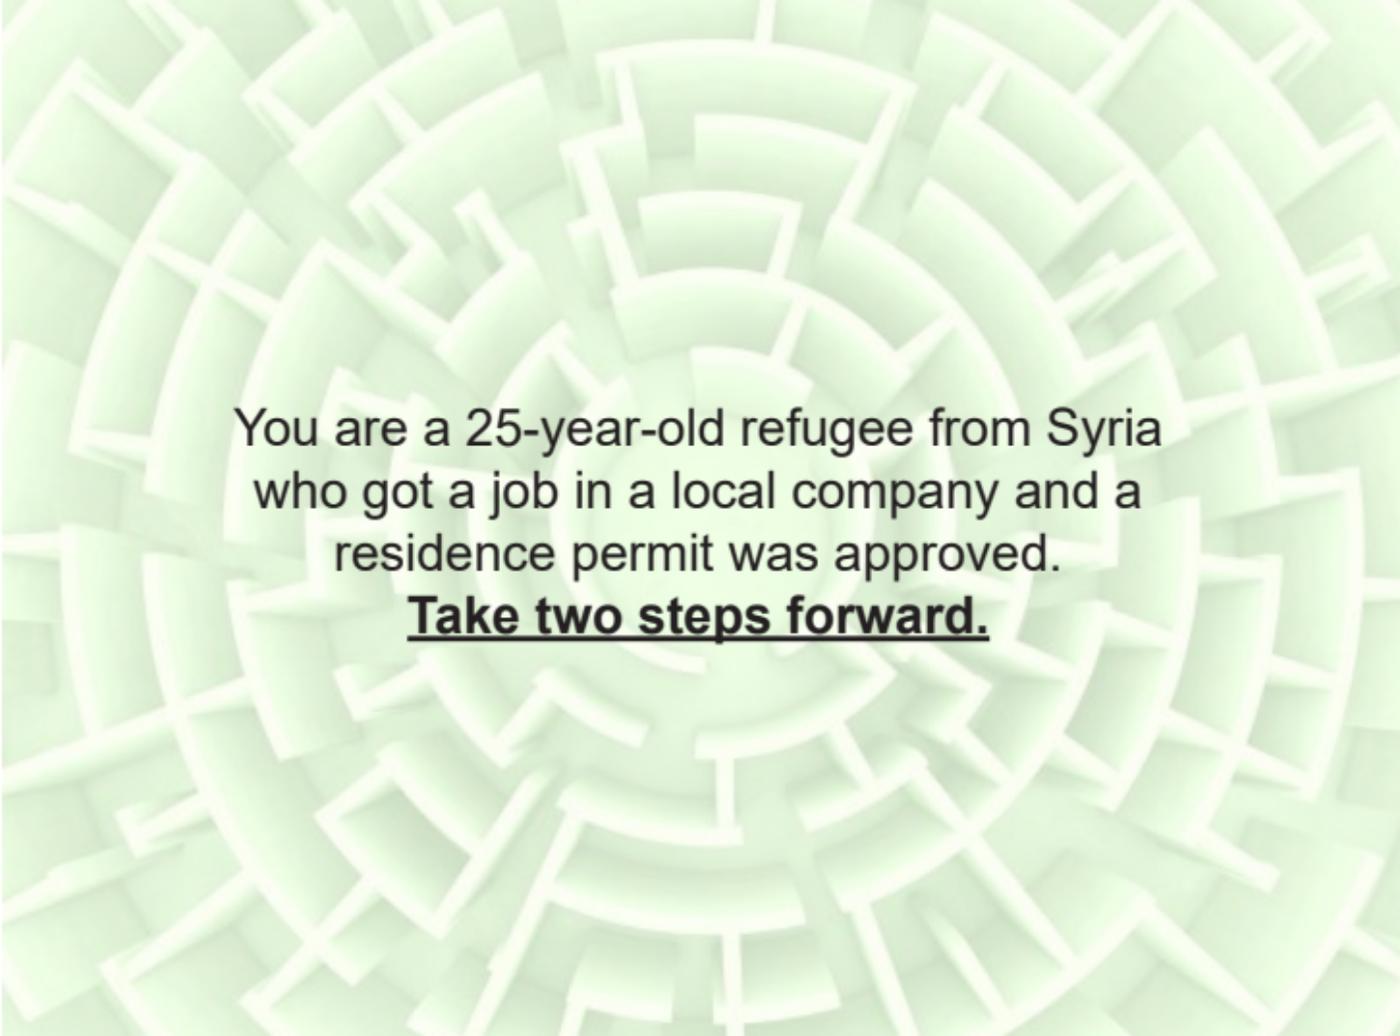

You are a young person with a disability who uses a wheelchair and could not go this summer to the Theatre Festival due to inaccessibility of the place.

Take two steps back.

Your name and your organisation for Human Rights Defending were published on right-wing political websites as an announced list of the main country's enemies.

Roll a Dice and go back according to the score at dice.

You are a 25-year-old refugee from Syria who got a job in a local company and a residence permit was approved.

Take two steps forward.